Old Guard, on Convention, Is Insistent Cummins Man Fill Out His Term.

OBEY PRIMARY RESULT. IS BROOKHART REPLY

Des Moines, Iowa, Aug. 5 .- The party hatchet which Iowa Republicans buried with shouting and jubilation at their State convention here two weeks ago is stirring restlessly in its grave.

As party leaders prepare for an-

As party leaders prepare for another meeting of the State convention tomorrow to nominate a candidate for the remainder of the term left vacant by the death of Senator Albert B. Cummins, indications point to a bitter convention battle which may reopen the newly closed breach with the insurgent Smith W. Brookhart and his supporters.

A fight between the old guard and the new, the latter representing the Brookhart adherents, seems in-evitable now over the question of whether Brookhart, who defeated Senator Cummins for renomination last June and who will be the party's candidate for the six-year term in November, shall likewise be the Republican choice fof the remainder of the Cummins term.

Want a Cummins Man.

The old guard, through the mouths of Cummins' adherents, has made known its determination that as a mark of respect to the late. senator's memory no one shall be nominated who is not in known accord with the ideals and policies Senator Cummins and who would not have been acceptable to him. And Col. Brookhart does not answer any of the qualifications laid down in their help-wanted advertisement.

But Col. Brookhart, though no making an active campaign for the short term nomination, is very much in the running and his supporters are insistent that he must be nominated in order to answer the demand for farm relief legis-lation which they say was voiced in the colonel's decisive primary vic-tory over Senator Cummins. Should a man other than Brookhart receive the short-term nomination, some party leaders foresee a possibility that the insurgent forces may swing to the Democratic nominee in retaliation. While Cummins men are believed to hold the necessary convention strength to make a nomination, cooler heads in the party were counseling caution to-day because of the danger of a party

Three Women Discussed.

Three women were being discussed today as possible compromise candidates. They were Mrs. Lou Cummins McHenry, sister of the late Senator Cummins; Miss Martha McClure, vice chairman of the State McClure, vice chairman of the McClure McClure, vice Accounts, vice chairman or the State acquibitean committee, and Mrs. T. F. Hollowell, national committee woman. None looms as a formidable contender, however, and convention eve finds Brookhart pitted against the field

Cummins forces in Des Moines are said to favor former Judge Charles S. Bradshaw, of Des Moines, and Fred L. Maytag, of Newton, former senator, although a field of more than: a dozen favorite sons will be in the running. Talk of former Gov. N. E. Kendall as a compromise candidate brought from his friends the asertion that he is definitely and finally out of politics, and a letter from Kendall to John T. Smithson, of Des Moines, written last April, was made public oday. In it the former governor declared that "The senatorial situation in Iowa has become somewhat complex, but I can not under any circumstances be induced to reenter polities."

Former Senator Charles A. Rawson is being discussed as a compromise possibility.

A reiteration that every precaution was being taken to safeguard the treaty rights of American nationals in Mexico was the only State Department comment yesterday on the statement of the Knights of Columbus relating to the Mexican religious situation.

The department has received hundreds of communications from Catholic organizations and individuals in connection with the controversy, some calling attention to specific cases in which the rights of Americans in Mexico were alleged to have been infringed. These cases have been referred invariably to Ambassador Sheffield in Mexico City for investigation.

Many of the more general communications have urged action of some sort by the Washington government. So far as known there has been no hint of any departure from the policy the administration has pursued of confining its connection with the crisis to the protection of the treaty rights of American nationals.

WASHINGTON'S AIR TERMINAL.

Henry Ford has recently announced the successful evolution of a flivver airplane; a 2,600mile reliability air tour under the auspices of the Detroit Aviation society will get under way Saturday; the navy announces completed plans for its first metal-clad airship; before long a French aviator will undertake a nonstop New York to Paris flight. It is to be hoped that so many impending big events in the air will not cloud Washington's individual local avlation problem, the setting aside of a suitable tract of ground for a municipal flying field.

Suggestion was made Wednesday to the National Capital park and planning commission by the District airport committee that the area south of Benning road, between the Anacostia river and Twenty-first street northeast and extending south to B street-southeast, be set aside in development of the plan for future Washington as a municipal airport. The location suggested, close to the center of population, is admirable, and if, as is believed by the airport committee, its development is in line with the work already proposed for the Anacostia river park project. should be favorably considered for this pur ose by the park commission.

Other cities have already recognized the necessity of setting aside such ground. Recently an aviation field comprising 140 acres, a mile and a quarter from the heart of the city's business district, was provided for St. Paul, Minn., by a bond issue voted at the primary election. The city of Buffalo has recently purchased 412 acres to be used for this purpose. Of three landing fields in Detroit, one belongs to the city. These are only a few of the 310 municipally-owned landing fields in the United States

The landing field is a civic project which will greatly affect the city's future growth as the use of the airplane in commercial and private transportation increases. Army and navy fields in Washington have special functions, and can not be used as commercial ports Washington will need a terminal for commercial air traffic, and it is to be hoped that as the comprehensive plan for the city develops thi need will be given full consideration

Among the things that keep people happy are health, friends and swell-head.

STANLEY LANSBURGH.

In the death of Stanley Lansburgh , Washington loses one of its foremost merchants and a public-spirited citizen. But 38 years of age he was one of the directing heads of Lansburgh & Bro., the son of one of the founders. Gustave Lansburgh. The business, carried on so successfully, is evidence of his great ability. His counsel as director of the Better Business bureau and as vice president of the Merchants and Manufacturers association was of benefit to the entire business community.

Mr. Lansburgh's civic and philanthropic activities were not bruited abroad, but were very large and the beneficiaries were numer-His memory will be cherished by a host of friends, who extend their sympathy to the family on the occasion of his untimely death

POPULAR LOCAL GOVERNMENT.

The fundamental principle of sound municipal administration was emphasized by Commissioner Dougherty, when, in his inaugural address, he said: "A city is best governed where the larger number of citizens have some share in the government of that city."

Evidently the new commissioner is a be liever in the policy that has built up the various citizens' associations of the District, and which finds its latest expression in the organization of the citizens advisory council, of which he was a member. Washingtonians have no voice in the election of their municipal officials, but recently they evolved the plan of creating an elective body to confer with the commissioners in an unofficial capacity. This advisory council has been recognized by the commissioners, has been assigned headquarters at the District building and has been consulted on important local questions. This, naturally, brings the government of the District closer t the people and gives the taxpaver an unofficial voice that will become more and more effective as time goes on.

Commissioner Dougherty urges citizens of Washington to ally themselves with the association representing the particular community within which they may be domiciled. If local residents would heed this excellent advice and tion out of his head. Foreign Minister Chamtake the same personal interest in local affairs, which they might be expected to take if they were privileged to vote, the bond between the official heads of the District and their unofficial advisers would become still stronger. This organization has proved its worth. The trouble cially within the British empire, if it cares in the past has been that neither the commissioners of the District nor the committees of Congress were able, when controversial issues stood with respect to them. Antagonistic groups left the authorities unenlightened concerning public opinion. With the citizens advisory council authorized to speak for the people of Washington the old-time confusion is disappearing, and Congress is better enabled to legislate in behalf of the greatest good for the greatest number This will be assured if more of the people follow the advice of the new commissioner, attend their community meetings, and give their fellows the benefit of their counsel

Most of the quarrels about religion are arried on by people who have little of it.

MR. MELLON ABROAD.

Secretary Mellon, in Europe on a vacation, finds it difficult to maintain his status as an American private citizen. With J. P. Morgan and Benjamin Strong, governor of the Federal Reserve Bank of New York, already abroad, and discussing financial affairs with the leading fiscal experts of Europe, the Secretary of the Treasury, it would seem, in-evitably will be drawn into conference.

Mr. Mellon is reported from Rome as having had an extended conference on Wednesday with Finance Minister Volpi, at which Italy's financial and economic problems were discussed. The American Secretary has expressed his willingness to meet and confer with Premier Poincare upon his arrival in Paris a fortnight hence. At such a conference he can not well refrain from discussing the one subject which, more than anything else, the French premier desires to discuss, and in view of the authority possessed by each. it is quite possible that new accommodations may be found.

News comes from New York that the foremost bankers of Wall street are anticipating announcement of another big loan to France. The Morgan firm advanced the French government $100,000,000 in March, 1924, and it is said Mr. Morgan's present visit to Europe is in connection with another loan estimated at anywhere between $100,000,000 and $250,-000,000. Consummation of this huge credit will depend almost entirely upon French ratification of the debt settlement. M. Poincare, doubtless, will refer to this proposed loan in his conversations with Mr. Mellon, and Mr. Morgan, after discussing the terms of the loan tentatively with French officials, may feel constrained to look up Mr. Mellon and talk over the whole question with him.

Premier Poincare is making commendable headway in solving the French financial problem. He has scored several victories in the senate and chamber of deputies, and, emboldened by these successes, is moving forward to measures still more drastic to enforce national economy, stabilize the franc and bring order out of the existing financial chaos. A heart to heart talk with Mr. Mellon will do the French premier and the French people much good. President Coolidge could not make his vacation in the Adirondacks completely private; no more can Secretary Mellon, in France, avoid discussion of financial problems.

Early to bed and early to rise, and your ace won't be walked on by flies.

AMERICA NOT AN EQUAL.

Prof. Manley O. Hudson, writing from Geneva. contributes the following to the New York

Some fifteen states have now accepted the invitation of the council of the league of nations to be represented at the meet-ing to be held in Geneva on September 1 to discuss the situation created by the proposed adhesion of the United States to the protocol of the permanent court of international justice, with the reservations voted by the Senate of the United States. It is generally expected that these governments will agree at this conference upon the terms of uniform replies to be made to the government of the United I have found in every quarter a states. I have found in every quarter a feeling of decided reluctance to accept the Senate's fifth reservation, which would prevent the court from entertaining a re-quest for an advisory opinion relating to a matter in which the United States claims interest, without the consent of the

As 55 governments are members of the eague, it appears that more than 25 per cent of unanimity has been secured at Geneva-a very good record for that vicinity. It also annears that there is a tendency to unite in opposition to the Senate's fifth reservation. which would give the United States the same veto power over world court advisory opinions as is possessed by Great Britain, France, Italy and Japan.

This tendency is encouraging, inasmuch as foreshadows long postponement of American commitment to the league court, and eventual refusal by the United States to ad here to the court protocol. If the European powers decide that they can not manipulate the court to their advantage if the United States is admitted on equal terms the true nature of the court will become apparent to Americans, and the subtle attempt to entangle the United States in the league of nations will e frustrated

HOW BRITAIN CAN PAY.

A cable from London, reporting the house of commons debate, says:

Commander Kenworthy declared that up to the present the British were largely pay-ing the war debts by rubber profits. This, he added, could not continue, as the rubber monopoly would be broken up, and be predicted that in the future the British would have to pay their debts in goods, which would cause unemployment in the United States and lead the Americans to take the initiative in debt revision.

There he goes again-the same old fallacy of the unavoidableness of paying debts in anything but direct transfer of goods.

Americans do not intend to pay Britain's debt to the United States by turning over the American market to British goods and thus forcing American factories to shut down. Commander Kenworthy should put such a noberlain has just declared, with proper pride that Britain will not whimper, but will pay its debt. It does not need to ask Americans to pay the debt indirectly in the form of tariff concessions. It can sell goods elsewhere, espeto adopt the American policy of protection:

and with the profits it can pay its debt. Great Britain has a favorable trade balance arose, to determine exactly where the public | in the Far East, and the United States buys from the Far East more than it sells there The transfer of credits in this three-cornered commerce will take care of Britain's debt to the United States.

Commander Kenworthy is right as to rubber. The British monopoly is doomed.

There has been the suggestion, said the President, that the Federal government is overshadowing the State governments; yet the State governments deal with far more various and more intimate concerns of the people than does the national government. The President added:

THE GREATEST SINGLE ACTIVITY.

The Department of Commerce reports that the construction work of the nation, that is, the building of homes, public buildings, railroads, river and harbor works and water works, now takes first rank among all the activities of America. Construction work influences lumber production, fabricated iron and steel products, paints, plumbers' supplies, transportation, and many other industries.

It is estimated that construction work durng 1925 in 36 States reached a total value of $5,822,000,000, which was 30 per cent in advance of 1924. The 1925 construction work of the entire country reached a total in value of more than $6,600,000,000. The contracts for homes in 36 States during 1925 amounted to more than $2,672,000,000 This activity, considered in connection with automobile development, is proof that the American people are rapidly becoming a people of individual homes, largely suburban.

The year 1925 witnessed an unusual growth in the number and character of public buildings. Large amounts of money have been appropriated by Federal, State and municipal governments for the construction of beautiful and commodious buildings. This, with the building of homes, means prosperity for hundreds of industries supplying materials for buildings, waterworks, lighting and sewer systems, and roads

By the nomination & Representative Hawes as their candidate for the long-term senatorship, the Missouri Democrats have put their best man forward. Mr. Hawes was straightforward for the modification of the Volstead In the House, where he has served since 1921, he has always been direct, courageous. intelligent, chock-full of political common sense when most Democratic members lacked it. That's the kind of Democrat he is. It is a kind sorely needed at Washington and never too largely found there .- New York Times.

Yes, he's a good Democrat. He is against American entanglement in the league of nations' so-called world court, which our friend. the New York Times, so strongly favors.

If there should be another war in Europe the United States would not be likely to interfere with it .- Philadelphia Record.

Not unless one of the belligerents should demand that American ships be painted certain colors around the belly, travel only in certain parts of the world's oceans, and take sailing orders from the belligerent, on pain of death to all on board. In that case the United States would again have something to say-and it would say it with guns.

According to the Shipping Board, fifteen ocean-going vessels of more than 20,000 tons each are now being constructed in the shipyards of the world, of which two are American vessels. Italy is building the largest number. The United States ranks sixth at present in the construction of new tonnage.

There was a seller of brooms in London. His brooms were so good he had built up a solid trade. He immediately became surprised when he learned that there was some one else selling brooms, and that he was getting no orders. "The truth is," one of his customers related, "there has been another man around here with just as good brooms and they are much cheaper, so naturally I had to buy." He kept hunting around the neigh-borhood till finally he run his competitor to earth in a barroom. Then he said, "They tell me that you sell a broom a lot cheaper than I do. That beats me. I don't see how on earth you do it."

Well, why don't you think it could be done'

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR.

A Bob Lincoln Story. To the Editor of The Post-Sir

t was in 1878 that Robert T. Lincoln was the attorney of the city of Chicago against the railway aggressions of the shore of Lake Michigan-the most desirable and valuable water front of that great city. Universally Unvarying

THE noted Kansas editor, William Allen White, stated that the thing he really like most about electricity was its "democracy." He was impressed with the fact that the same flow of current is available for use by everyone-regardless of their progenitors, position or prestige in life.

There is no de luxe electric service—and, again, it is ALL de luxe. As this energy flows from Pepco's lines into your home it represents the ulti-mate in economy, dependability and versatility. It serves all alike and meets the demands of all with the same speed, security and service.

Mr. White is right-electricity is the most democratic element known to man-kind. It is only in the degree with which it is utilized that there is any dis-crimination—and THAT RESTS WITH YOU, ALONE! Utilize to the utmost this very unvarying service. Provide ample ontlets to let in economical electricity as generated so democratically by

The Strong Pursues the Weak.

Dear Miss McDonald: Why must we women have, so much to bear? Of all your advice to women, I haven't seen anything like mine, so I am writing this to have your kind advice. Please have this put in your paper, for the other party reads it also, and maybe will heed to it.

I am a young mother of three little girls, and I have a very good husband. While I was away for a while another woman became friendly with him and tried to lead him on. He didn't care a thing for her; but sue didn't mind. He told her he was married; but it didn't affect her any. She has come over to see him, but he does not want to see her. She is middle-aged and

Now please understand that I am mother and forget the morbid past.

Now please understand that I am not jealous, but it is so annoying when I think of the other woman trying to lure my husband and running after him. I have the utmost trust and confidence in him, because he tells me all about such things. We aren't very well off, but try to do what is right and honorable; so why does "she" forever run after my husband?

Please let me know through your most wonderful column just as soon as possible, for it will ease my mind. Just tell me what he should do—or what I should do to be rid of this annoyance, which is a very real trouble, as no day passes that she is not to see him.

First of all, you can keep your comb and brush clean. It won't hurt them to have very frequent baths. If after using your comb you will wipe it with a dry towel, a lot of the dusty particles can be instantly removed and prevented from lodging between the teeth of the comb. Especially is this true of the finetoothed combs.

And the fine-toothed comb, by the way, is one of your best aids in this matter of keeping the scalp clean. Part the hair in small sections and go carefully over the whole scalp. There is an inexpensive hard-rubber comb made for this very purpose, somewhat on the order of a baby's comb, which would also answer.

A good tonic, applied to the scalp with a piece of absorbent cotton, is cleansing, refreshing and beneficial. It can be used at least twice a week. Powered orris root is good for the dry shamped if it is correctly.

By NORMA TALMADGE

Most of the naturally clear complexions you see today are due to it ... what to do

THERE are both proved ways and unproved ways in skin care. The wise woman chooses the proved way. A good complexion is too priceless for experiment.

The simple rule below is one any girl or woman owes herself to try.

More beautiful complexions are credited to it than to any other method known. Its results are seen on every side.

Follow it if only for one week. It is nature's proved way to skin clearness and to Youth safeguarded. Leading skin specialists urge it widely— correct skin cleansing with the soothing olive and palm lather of Palmolive, in this way:

THE RULE AND HOW TO FOLLOW IT FOR BEST RESULTS

Wash your face gently with soothing Palmolive Soap, massaging it softly into the skin. Rinse thoroughly first with warm water, then with cold. If your skin is inclined to be dry, apply a touch of good cold cream—that is all.

to the costume described.

Do not use ordinary soaps in the reatment given above. Do no

as Palmolive.
Remember that before Palmolive came, women were told, "use no soap on your faces." Soaps then were judged too harsh. Palmolive is a beauty soap made for one purpose only: to safeguard your complexion. 60 years of soap study stand behind it. Millions of pretty skins proves its effectiveness beyond doubt.

Do this regularly, and particularly in the evening. Use powder and rouge if you wish. But never leave them on over night. They clog the pores, often enlarge them. Blackheads and disfigurements often follow. They must be washed away. Follow these rules day in and day cut. Your skin will be soft and lo.ely—naturally colorful and clear.

White result of the Jacksonville agreement been to throw a large part of the business, into nonunion fields?"

Secretary Hoover—"I think the result of it has been to increase the production in the nonunion fields. That may be more superficial than real, however. The question is somewhat hypothetical, for even assuming that the wage rate under the Jacksonville agreement had been 25 or 30 per cent less, it is probable that the nonunion fields would have reduced their wages to some point 20 per cent below the union agreement, and the same effect would have taken place. New York, Aug. 5 (By the Associated Press).—Durant Motors was again the sensational feature in today's curb market, scoring an extreme gain of 2% points at 12%, more than half of which was later lost, on a turnover of nearly 90,000 shares. William C. Durant was reported to be sponsoring that he was negotiating for the Peerless Co., but this lacked confirmation.

Local Trading Light

Yesterday's trading on the Washington Stock Exchange was the lightest in volume since July 8, and despite the fact that there was no falling back in bid prices few offerings came out.

Capital Traction gained 3/8 to 1033 ½ on sale of an odd lot of 2/8 shares. Washington Gas Light was firm at 70 with 10 shares changing hands, while National Mortgage and Investment preferred sold to the extent of 50 shares at 8½.

The sole transaction in the bond division was in Potomac Electric Power consolidated 5s, a $1,000 selling at 100%, a quarter point better than on Wednesday.

bday were marked by irregularities, produced by heavy cross currents in the dealings. The demand for copper shares and certain other issues was quite good, with the result that prices in those departments were quite strong, but the strength apparently was used as a screen to hide distribution in other quarters.

Among professional traders who had been following the rise, sentiment was bearish, according to all accounts. On the other hand, the demand from other sources was so large that stocks were exceedingly well absorbed. G.U. Star Goes To Minors In Trade

McGraw Will Send Florence to Brewer Club.

Giants Have Bought Star Battery of Milwaukee.

N EW YORK, Aug. 5.—The recent scouting trip made by John McGraw through the territory of the American association was not in vain. On September 1 there will report to the Giants "Orry" Orwell, ablest pitcher on "Orry" Orwell, ablest pitcher on the staff of the Milwaukee club, and his battery mate. McMenemey. For these players McGraw will send Chick Davies. Andy Cohen and Paul Chick Davies, Andy Cohen and Paul Florence to the Brewers. This in-formation was relayed here today from Milwaukee. Orwell used to be an outfielder. He is a good one, too, but he wanted to pitch and when he got the opportunity he proved he had plenty. McMenemey is rated the best catcher in the as-sociation and ranks right up with the leaders as a hitter.

AVIES, Cohen and Florence are only part payment. It is reported a lot of cash will go with them. Otto Borchert has had many offers for his star this season and is inderstood to have driven

The Brewers are not likely to win the association pennant, but they have an outside chance to head off Louisville and Indianapolis, the favorites, and Borchert did not want to weaken his club by parting with his most effective battery at this time. Seeking Battle, Says Rickard.

MEW YORK, Aug. 5 (By A. P.). Jack Dempsey decided defi-nitely today to appear before the State athletic commission next Tuesday and make personal appli-cation for a license to fight Gene Tunney in defense of his heavy-weight title at the Yankee Stadium, September 16.

Dempsey's decision, announced through his business agent, Gene Normile, came after a conference with Tex Rickard and a statement with Tex Rickard and a statement by George Brower, member of the commission, that the champion would be expected, "as a courtesy at least," to appear before the box-ing solons next week. Action on the licenses of both Dempsey and Tunney is expected to be taken by the license committee of the com-

Champion Is Going Pittsburgh Entrant Eliminated Last Capital Man.

Philadelphia Again Is Muny Star Gets in Much Trouble on Course.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Aug. 5.—The strain in a man of Washington was eliminated from the score board with the playing of the first match play round in the national public links tournament at Grover Cleveland park today, when John D. Boger, jr., was defeated by Carl F. Kauffman, of Pittsburgh.

The Capital player was never in the lead. He lost the first two holes and was 3 down at the turn. Kauffman stepped further into the lead when he shot a par 5 on the long tenth, and he increased his margin to 5 up on the troublesome thirteenth, a 390-yard hole that is bordered, right yard hole that is bordered, right and left, with rough, and whose green is fronted with a series of wide traps. It was in this rough and these traps that Boger encounand these traps that Boger encountered trouble, taking a 6 on the hole against Kauffman's 5, one over par. Although Boger played the standard of game that won him a place in the championship flight, it did not match that of Kauffman. The latter was only one over par going out, and was one more over on the five holes the pair played along the inward nine.

I T was no disgrace for Boger to lose to the Pittsburgher. Carl's reputation as a golf-er preceded him to this tournaor preceded him to this tourna-ment. Bout Appeal Boger Beaten Harris Will Use Murray Nats. Feeble HUH RUETHER WORKS TODAY HER With Bats, As Regular Pitcher Now

DETROIT, Mich., Aug. 5.—
"Murray's showing against the heavy-hitting Tigers yesterday lifts quite a load off my mind," said Manager Harris this morning in discussing George's work in his second start as a National. "I have to admit that his start was nothing to brag about, but one of those five hits in the first frame was quite fluky and, in the local promise one thing—I'm going to do a lot of practicing between now and my next start and, if hard work counts for anything, I'll be able to put em just where I want to."

Catcher Johnny Bassler slipped one over on Stanley Harris in the first inning of today's game. After McNeely and Bucky had both now on, I'm counting on Murray as one of my regular starters," Bucky concluded.

This Western trip has been a particularly tough one on our Nats in one respect and that is with respect to the five games which they had lost up to and including yesterday's lost up to and including yesterday's double-header. All of thee defeats were decided by a single run and in every case the aliens packed away the decision in the last two rounds. Chicago took one game and St. Louis two with rallies in the eighth frames, the Sox won another on a pair of stands in rounds eight and nine, while the Tyger victory of yesterday came in the first extra frame. All of which proves that ball games are not over until the final out has been turned intil the final out has been turned

ONLY a corporal's guard turned out to witness this afternoon's fracas. Most of the fans undoubtedly had plenty in yesterday's twin bill, which probably gave them enough baseball to last them several days to come. Five hours and 20 minutes were consumed in actual playing time, not counting the intermission. not counting the intermission. It might also be mentioned that unlike most Detroit games, the contests were remarkably free from arguments.

Pitcher Alvin Crowder is considerably worried over that wild spell he suddenly developed in the eleventh inning of yesterday's second game. "I walked myself out of the International league a few years ago," he told the writer last night, "frequently losing control for no reason at all, sometimes as late as with two out in the ninth after I

Barney Hits Homer for Only Scores for Locals.

Collins Yields One Hit in Seven Innings.

By FRANK H. YOUNG.

D ETROIT, Aug. 5.— Walter Johnson's first start of his twentieth season as a National was not so good, for the Tygers beat him in the third game of the current set, 6 to 4. Barney did not pitch a particularly bad game, but on a particularly bad game, but on two occasions he allowed the Jun-galeers to cluster bingles on him, and these two frames cost him the

With the willow Walter contributed more than his share, for in the second stanza, with two mates on the paths, he gave his team on the paths, he gave his team three runs by driving a homer over the left-field wall. This was one of the three lone hits the Nats were able to garner from the com-bined offerings of Art Johns and Rip Collins during the entire game.

Naturally the Nats could not expect to win with so little stick work. It's simply not being done these days, and they were fortunate in getting as many runs from their puny attack. who started, was not hit particularly hard, for he gave out his passes far too freely to suit Cobb. After Barney had made his 4-base contribution, which put the Nats temporarily in the lead, Stan Harris was credited with a wasted single, and for the balance of the route the only Nats who saw base life were Bucky, by being hit in the back in the eighth, and two others who walked.

Thistledown Race Meeting Canceled

Cleveland, Ohio, Aug. 5 (By A. P.).—Tomorrow's racing program at Thistledown track here has been canceled and indications are that there will be no more racing at that place as a result of supreme General C. C. Crabbe today.

A representative of Gardner H.

Abbott, receiver for the Thistle-down company, announced tonight that it is the intention to conform to the order of the court forbid-ding betting and that steps would be taken to cancel the lease held by Frank G. Yates, Canadian pro-motor, as operator of the track.

Capital City Midget Teams in Two Games

Two games have been scheduled for Sunday in the midget class of the Capital City league. The Auths, leaders in the race, meet the Apollos on the East Ellipse diamond at 11 o'clock, while the Celtics and Corinthians play on the West Ellipse field at the same time.

The junior class schedule for Sunday will not be announced until action is taken on the protest of the Freers on last Sunday's game with the Chaconas team.

Although the Takoma Tigers

Although the Takoma A study of Hagen's record sup-ports the view that his main triumphs have been in stroke competition, although it also is true that some of his most brilliant vic-tories have been at match play. Earlier this year, for instance, he trounced the recent king of golf, Bobby Jones, by the margin of 12 up and 11 to go in a 72-hole match in Florida. In England Hagen triumphed over his foremost British professional rival, Abe Mitchell, in another 72-hole battle, but his latest victory in the Eastern open championship was at stroke competition and included a recordbreaking card of 132 for the first 36 holes of the test.

Altogether since winning his first American open crown in 1914. Hagen has played in 64 open tour-naments of major importance here and abroad, winning 24 of them. Thus he has emerged triumphant on an average of better than once in every three tournament efforts. STOP YOUR HAIR TURNING GRAY

Simple Tonic Keeps Scalp Healthy-No Dandruff Or Gray Hairs.

DRUGGISTS HERE FEATURING IT

Leading druggists here in town are featuring a wonderful tonic for the hair and scalp of particular interest to men and women turning gray or bothered with dandruff.

One prominent lady says regarding it: "I never dreamed any tonic could so revive, stimulate and beautify your hair. It is marvelous how hair turning gray and streaked looking will respond to a few massage treatments. My own hair began turning gray at the temples two years ago, but while I was in Florida, friends there told me of this wonderful Lea's Hair Tonic and as soon as I began using it every hair in my head seemed to take on new life, luster and strength. Even the gray hairs I had gradually disappeared. That was two years ago and since then I've kept my hair and scalp in such excellent condition with Lea's Hair Tonic that I haven't a sign of gray hair, or dandruff," declares this lady, who like thousands of other men and women use Lea's now and then year after year with the same delightful results.

No man of woman using Lea's Hair Tonic occasionally will ever be gray. Lea's Tonic keeps the scalp in healthy condition. Druggists here sell it on the positive guarantee that it will prevent and banish gray hairs. They urge its occasional use for baldness, daudruff and as a general scalp and hair treatment that you may have a healthy clean looking scalp and fluxuriant, even colored hair entirely free of gray or streaks. Lea's Hair Tonic is almost colorless—has only the faint odor of bay rum, and full directions for its use come with each bottle. At leading drug stores here $1 per bottle or send dollar bill with name and address for bottle by return mail—Lea's Tonic Co., Brentwood, Md. (Formerly Tampa, Fla.)

CHICAGO GRAIN.

Chicago, Aug. 5 (By A. P.).—Rapid ogress of harvest northward with me new wheat already loaded in mada did a good deal today to give heat values a downward swing. The heat market closed heavy, % to 1% nts net lower; corn at % cent deine to % cent advance; oats, % nt to % cent down and provisions rying from 40 cents off to 17 cents in.

wylng from 40 cents off 16 17 cents. With harvest nearing completion in the more advanced sections of the merican Northwest, the movement of the spring crop is increasing. Thrashig returns are mixed, but reports wheat yields better than expected parts of the domestic spring crop it were a bearish factor. Besides, livies today from field observers in anda told of favogable weather and dicated less likelihood of minimum oduction, which recently has been oked for by some authorities. In tricular, Saskatchewan is reported have a larger crop than is genally supposed.

rallied in the late trade, hot eather over the greater portion of ec corn belt acting as a stimulus to ay. Oats traders took their cue om wheat.

Most of the provisions list was igher, helped by an upturn in the slue of hogs.

On Used Car Sales 1—All used cars offered to the public shall be honestly represented. If a car is suitable for a mechanic who can rebuild it, or for some one, who expects only a few months rough usage on a camping trip, it must be sold on that basis. Each car must be sold for just what it is.

2—All Studebaker automobiles which are noild as CERTIFIED CARS have been properly reconditioned, and carry a 30-day guarantee for replacement of defective parts and free service on adjustments. This is possible necause tremendous reserve mileage has been until the every Studebaker, which it is impossible to exhaust in years.

3—Every used car is conspicuously marked this price in plain figures, and that price ast as the price of our new cars, is rigidly admining. The public can deal in confidence and after only with the dealer whose policy one price only—the same price to all, or, to sell cars on this basis, every one mem must be honestly priced to begin with
